Fort Lauderdale News, in a three-part series, explained that three weeks ago the News showed in stories and pictures how the Federal Housing Authority was moving out with abandoned and foreclosed homes. A week later the FHA announced a drastic change in its operations, saying it had learned part of the reason for the high inventory of foreclosures was due to 'cheating' in loan applications. Then the News announced that Tom Vinciguerra, News political writer, had dug deep into the serious problem and, in a three-part series, would bring readers a close-up of the 'shocking situation'.

Dean Urges Soviets to Ban Marx

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. Delegate Arthur H. Dean called on the Soviet Union today to outlaw books which dwell on the inevitability of war—including the works of Marx, Lenin and Stalin. He made the demand in a heated session of the 17-nation disarmament conference in which delegates from East and West clashed on the question of how to eliminate war propaganda.

Dean reiterated that the United States believes this problem can best be dealt with by increasing exchanges of views across the Iron Curtain. Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin contended war propaganda should be made a formal crime in every country. He charged American refusal to countenance this indicated the United States is falsely sheltering behind principles of free expression. Zorin also accused the United States of repressing American citizens who sought peace. Dean rejected the contention as absolutely false. He said the United States acts only on the principle that any state has the right to prevent subversion by force. He emphasized that the American government prosecutes only those who advocate force for political ends. His reference obviously was to Communists. It was at this point that Dean urged the outlawing of books preaching the inevitability of war, and he specifically named the works of Marx, Lenin and Stalin.

Two U.S. Military Advisors Killed In Laos Crash

VIENTIANE, Laos (UPI)—Two U.S. military advisers in Laos were killed Friday when a chartered Air America transport plane crashed about 65 miles northwest of Vientiane, the airline disclosed Sunday. The Americans were identified as members of the U.S. military advisory group here. Their names were withheld until the families were notified.

The airlines said the pilot and co-pilot of the Beaver-type transport plane also died in the crash. But it did not give their names or nationalities. Air America is a private civilian company operating under a contract with the U.S. military mission and frequently drops supplies to Royal Laotian army troops in remote hill areas where transport over roads is impossible. The airlines said however the plane was on a routine "familiarization" flight when the crash occurred. It gave no reason for the crash.

De Gaulle Given Massive Vote Of Confidence

PARIS (UPI)—A massive vote of confidence from the French people cleared the way for President Charles de Gaulle today to push through independence for Algeria and other plans to restore France to "grandeur." Fortified by the backing of more than 80 per cent of the voters in Sunday's referendum, De Gaulle scheduled a series of consultations with his top aides to speed his next steps. The President was returning to Paris from his country home at Colombey-les-Deux-Églises, where (Turn to Page 4, Column 6)

Crackerjack Croaker Gets Top Hop Honor

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP)—Herbie, a crackerjack croaker recruited from a creek near Olivenhain, got off the top hop Sunday at the ninth annual Southern California jumping frog championship. Herbie, a California leopard-spotted hopper, won the broad jump with a cumulative three-leap distance of 13 feet, 3 inches. He also won best frog honors and so will be entered automatically in the international jumping frog jubilee May 30 at Angels Camp in Calaveras County. That was the setting of the famous Mark Twain story, "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County."

Castro Wants $62 Million For Ransom of Invaders

30-Year-Long Sentences Alternative

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Cuban exile negotiators will fly to Havana Tuesday in hopes of inducing Prime Minister Fidel Castro to reduce the $62 million set as ransom for their sons and husbands captured at the Bay of Pigs. A spokesman for the Cuban Families Committee said Castro replied favorably Sunday night to a cable seeking an audience with him. The vice treasurer of the committee, Enrique Liaca, said the committee already has raised $26 million in cash and pledges in four months to aid the prisoners. The 1,179 prisoners, captured in the abortive invasion last April, were sentenced to 30 years imprisonment each pending payment of ransoms ranging from $25,000 to $500,000. The unusual verdict came Saturday night by a five-man military tribunal, Havana newspapers reported. The trials were closed to the American press. Prosecutor Jose Santiago had called for the severest penalties. The maximum penalty is death, but Castro had been reported wary of imposing it. Some exiles here believe the sentences and ransom provision resulted from the family committee's offer to negotiate for the captives' release. A cable offering to negotiate was sent Saturday. The price for prisoners has more than tripled since Castro made his startling offer last May (Turn to Page 4, Column 9)

WHAT IS IT—New San Diego zoo arrival shows teeth, but left zoo experts in doubt about its exact species. Two U.S. Soldiers Killed by Red Band in Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (UPI)—A band of Communist Viet Cong guerrillas killed two U.S. soldiers and captured two others in a surprise raid on a village in the north of South Viet Nam Sunday. U.S. officials announced today. The officials said that South Vietnamese forces in the area were about 500 miles away. (Turn to Page 4, Column 4)

Candidate Blames Schools For Welfare State Attitude

The desire for security rather than freedom has started Americans on the march toward a welfare state, a Republican candidate for the U. S. Senate from Wyoming warned in an address Saturday night at a banquet of District 545, Rotary International, at the Broadmoor Hotel. Kenny Sailors, owner of a dude ranch in Jackson, Wyo., and a World War II Marine captain who has served in the Wyoming State Legislature, told his fellow Rotarians that the nation has "gone away from the rugged individualism that made us great and we are moving toward the welfare state."

Marines Ordered to Halt 'Drumming Out' Ceremony

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—The commandant of the Marine Corps has ordered a halt to the drumming out of disgraced Marines, a ceremony revived by a Norfolk commander. The commandant, Gen. David M. Shoup, said Saturday he had ordered an inspector general's investigation of the matter. "The local commander neither asked for nor was given authorization for the ceremony," said Shoup. Col. William C. Capehart revived the practice in August 1960 at the Norfolk Marine Barracks, and since that time at least seven Marines have been drummed out of the corps. In the grim ceremony, the disgraced Marine is marched before a formation of troops while the "death march" is slowly tapped out on the drums. His bad conduct discharge orders are read

12 Convicts Still At Large After Georgia Escape

JESUP, Ga. (AP)—South Georgia's biggest manhunt in recent years was pushed today for 12 convicts still at large after 25 prisoners broke out of a state prison branch without a shot being fired. Thirteen of the escapees were recaptured within 24 hours after they fled Wayne County State Prison Camp near this southwest Georgia town. Nearly 100 police officers and volunteers helped round up the fugitives, some of whom fled into dense woods and swamps. The prisoners fled on foot after overpowering the only two guards on duty at the fenced-in prison branch Saturday night. They emptied the prison arsenal, of two dozen shotguns and pistols and ammunition and locked the guards in a solitary cell after cutting wire separating them from a guard's catwalk. Eighty-four prisoners refused to join the break and stayed in their cells, said state prisons director Jack M. Forrester.

Algerian Rebels Pledge to Continue Terrorist Tactics

ALGIERS (AP)—A source close to the rightist Secret Army Organization said today "Our fight continues unabated." The Secret Army Organization is known as the OAS. Terrorists working with knife and gun pursued their random slaughter of Moslem civilians in the wake of the French electorate's vote for President Charles de Gaulle's peace pact with the Algerian nationalists. Two killings were reported in Bab el Oued, a European workers district of Algiers. One Moslem was shot with a pistol. Another was stabbed in the back. Three plastic bomb explosions heavily damaged the University of Algiers Sunday night. The university was the scene of a major operation Saturday night, when French troops arrested a number of terrorists and seized arms and explosives there. It has been one of the main centers of rightist agitation intended to keep Algeria French.

Casper Boy Scout Drowns In Icy Lake

CASPER, Wyo. (UPI)—Sheriff's deputies recovered the body of a 15-year-old Casper Boy Scout Sunday from the icy waters of Alcova Lake, about 35 miles southwest of here. One of the hip boots William (Billy) Hinton was wearing when he slipped and fell from a six-foot bank on Saturday was still on his foot. His boots apparently filled with water immediately after his tragic fall from the mossy rocks, dragging him under. Natrona County sheriff's deputy George Borden and Ray Clark recovered the body from about 90 feet of water shortly before 10 a.m., Sunday. Another Boy Scout—13-year-old Donald Daniels of Casper—had tried vainly to save his pal. Daniels stripped off his clothing and dove into the water. But he was forced to swim back to shore moments later by the frigid temperatures. Young Hinton had been spearing carp when he lost his footing on the slippery rocks and plunged into the water.

Whooping Crane Chick Checks In as Number 48

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—Crip and Josephine are two bashful whooping cranes determined to do something about preserving their nearly extinct species. Their fifth offspring cracked through its egg Sunday at Audubon Zoo to increase the world population of the rare bird to 48. Crip and Josephine are taking turns incubating a second egg, which zoo director George Douglas believes will hatch by the end of the week. The two adult whooping cranes, who are so shy Douglas keeps them away from public view, hatched the first of their species ever born in captivity four years ago. The rusty-colored baby crane is about twice the size of a newly hatched chick. "It's a very healthy bird," said Douglas, who put the baby under a 24-hour watch. "We are hopeful it won't catch aspergeriosis." He said there is no known cure for the disease—a lung fungus caused by an airborne germ. It doesn't affect domestic fowl and many wild birds, but Audubon lost two cranes from the disease in the past.

Union Chieftains Oppose Railway Merger Proposals

MINNEAPOLIS (UPI)—Two officials of the railway conductors and brakemen organization Sunday expressed strong opposition to the proposed merger of four railroads. President Louis J. Wagner, Proctor, Minn., and C. H. Anderson, secretary-treasurer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa, spoke at a rally here of the Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen (ORCB). Both men claimed the growth of the Northwest would be severely curtailed if the merger application were approved. The Interstate Commerce Commission is currently holding hearings on the proposal to join Great Northern, Northern Pacific, Burlington and the Spokane, Portland and Seattle Railroad. Mountain Lion Trapped; Weighs In at 175 Pounds

DURANGO, Colo. (UPI)—A federal trapper reported Sunday that he had trapped one of the largest mountain lions ever caught in length and weighed about 175 pounds, according to Barney Yeager, the trapper. He said the animal was still alive when he checked his 4½-inch steel trap, and was in a frenzy. Yeager said he was forced to kill the wildly struggling lion, and that it took two bullets to down her. The trap had been set on the ranch of Bob Taylor, about 25 miles west of Durango and 20 miles east of Cortez, Colo. Yeager, a trapper for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, found the lion on the trap on Friday. He also reported trapping three bobcats and three coyotes in the same area.

Four Major U.S. Denominations Discuss Merger

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representatives of four major Christian denominations meet today to explore prospects for merger. Involved in the first joint session of its scope looking toward a possible united Protestantism in America are four denominations with nearly 19 million members. They are: The Methodist Church, the nation's largest Protestant body, with 10,046,293 members. The Protestant Episcopal Church with 3,500,000 members. The United Presbyterian Church with 3,249,011 members. The United Church of Christ, a recent merger of Congregational Christian and Evangelical and Reformed Church, with 2,015,037 members. No decisive actions are expected at the initial two-day conference, which plans only to set up organization and procedures for continuing negotiations. The opening get-together appeared likely to provide some clues as to just how much steam there is behind the historic proposal. Other denominations may be invited to join in future negotiating sessions. The goal, if agreements can be reached, is establishment of a united church "truly catholic, truly more united." Two Escaped Lions Caught After Near-Panic in Omaha

OMAHA, Neb. (AP)—"Close the door," shouted the bartender, "there's a lion out there." And there she was on the hood of Sgt. Bernard Moliner's cruiser, roaring and licking raindrops off the windshield. She was Carmen, the largest of the pair of circus lions which had escaped from a truck at the edge of the main Omaha business district Saturday night. She had cuffed but not seriously injured a pedestrian. Moliner had trapped her in the entryway to the bar by driving his cruiser onto the sidewalk to block the exit. Police with riot guns trained on the big cat formed a semi-circle around the entrance. They brought in dogs to hold back a crowd of 500 or more curious. "If that cat had taken off into the crowd it's hard to say what would have happened," said Sgt. Eugene Scarpino. "Some of those people must have been simple idiots. They just wouldn't move." At the city auditorium a block away the wrestling matches had just ended and nearly 5,000 fans

Youth Bureau Is Progressing, Says Police Chief

A new Youth Bureau within the Colorado Springs Police Department is now in the second stage of its development, according to Chief Cecil J. McKissick.

The first step was taken last year when all juvenile records were separated from other police records.

Third and final step will come when the new bureau has adequate operating space in the new police building, which should be completed sometime in December.

In the second phase operation, McKissick said, Sgt. Vern Wilson is now working with Dorothy Heller in the new bureau.

Mrs. Heller has served as social investigator for the city for several years, and in that position worked directly under City Manager John M. Biery.

But the operation was put under the supervision of the chief's office this year in anticipation of setting up the new Youth Bureau. Wilson has been working in the administration end of the police department. Prior to that he worked in traffic and as a dispatcher.

Mrs. Heller and Wilson will work as a team in the new bureau.

They will both work to set up new procedures for the bureau and to develop close liaison with the juvenile court and juvenile authorities.

Because of an ever-increasing activity in juvenile matter, it will probably be necessary to put one or two more persons in the bureau at a later date, McKissick said.

This will be done when the police department moves into its new building. The Youth Bureau will be located on the top floor so as to get the juveniles away from adult criminals.

The police chief said the new changes in juvenile law at the state level. Those up to 18 years of age are now considered juveniles. The former upper age limit was 16.

In order to put the bureau into its present operation, McKissick said, there has been some switching of offices. Mrs. Heller and Wilson now occupy two adjoining offices which had been utilized by the detective bureau and the CID.

The arrangement is such that polygraph room can be used by the bureau when not in use by the detectives and other police personnel.

Lt. Harold L. Davis, who heads the administration and records bureau, now occupies the office formerly used by Mrs. Heller.

Mrs. Marge Berven has been moved into this bureau to do secretarial work for Davis and Frank B. Moore.

"We have tried to make the best use of what space we have," the chief said. But the bureau won't have adequate space and location until the move into the new building is made.

McKissick said it is hoped to have most of the "bugs" ironed out of the new bureau by then. The new department will be designed for both prevention and law enforcement.

Four Major U.S. Denominations Discuss Merger

ly reformed, and truly evangelic.

The move was originally sparked on Dec. 4, 1960, in a sermon at San Francisco's Episcopal Cathedral by the Presbyterian leader, the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake of Philadelphia.

"Our separate organizations," he declared at the time, "present a tragically divided church to a tragically divided world."

Last year, as he urged, governing bodies of the United Presbyterian Church and the Episcopal Church joined in issuing invitations for the talks to the other two denominations.

Merger of the four communions would bring together Christians retaining age-old creeds and traditional liturgies, and those with more informal non-ritualistic customs.

However, the roots of all four groups intertwine back in the early days of the Protestant reformation 450 years ago.

Dr. Blake has estimated that even if good progress is made, it would take at least 10 years to form the merger. With the exception of the Episcopal Church, the other three denominations are products of previous mergers themselves that have developed in this century in the momentum for fuller Christian unity.

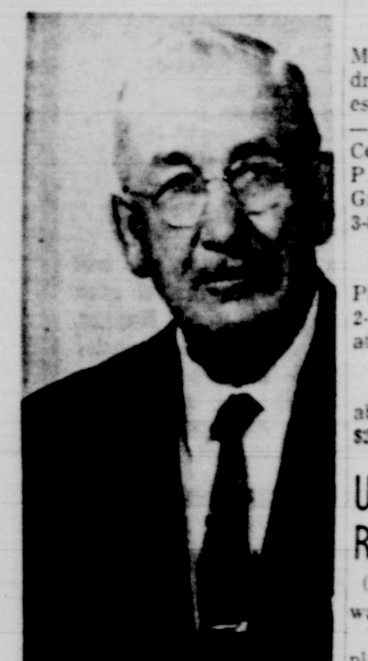

Chairmen of the negotiating teams are:

Methodist Bishop Glenn R. Phillips of Denver, the Rt. Rev. Robert F. Gibson Jr. of Richmond, Va., Episcopal bishop of the Virginia diocese, the Rev. Dr. David G. Colwell of the First Congregational church of Washington, D. C., of the United Church; and the Rev. Dr. James I. McCord, president of Princeton Theological Seminary, heading the Presbyterian group.

Union Chieftains Blast Railroad Merger Plan

Wagner said mergers contemplate a reduction in service.

"Our position is that these services compete to produce a healthier railroad industry," he said. "These services also produce more prosperous communities."

Wagner blamed the attitude of management for many industry problems. He said "railroad workers are battling the most murderous assault on employment in the history of this or any other industry. We cannot work with a management whose main objective is bigger profits," he added.

Anderson said the merger would eliminate 5,000 jobs at an annual loss of $32 million and would adversely affect 23 states.

Candidate Blames Schools For Welfare State Attitude

"America is free because Americans are free," he said and asked for a return to the "rugged individualism" which will halt the march toward the welfare state.

"By keeping our Constitution limitations, we keep out liberty," Sailors said but said he felt that the Constitution had been disregarded for the past 30 years.

Sailors agreed that government is necessary and useful but said it was dangerous also when it becomes too centralized which is what is happening today with "the draft away from the Constitution."

In retelling the tragic story of many of the Korean prisoners who did not have "the will to fight back" because they knew too little about the American principles, Sailors said that a repeat of this would not happen as long as the younger generation understands the "nature of our freedom."

Two Red Berlin Workers Escape Despite Bullets

BERLIN AP — Two East Berlin building workers rammed their way through the Red wall in a heavy truck today and escaped to the West in a hail of bullets, the West Berlin government reported.

The escape was made at Boyenstrasse, in the French sector. Neither man was injured.

The two men drove the heavy truck full tilt at the wire barrier, broke through and then slammed the dump truck into the wall itself.

The truck smashed down about 15 feet of the wall and came to a stop. The two men jumped out and ran desperately across an open, bombed space to a house about 50 yards on the west side of the border.

While they were trying to open the door of the house to get cover, East German border guards opened fire with submachine guns.

Neither man was hit before they got into the house. The East Germans tossed the truck away and posted armed guards at the gap in the wall.

MY ANSWER by Billy Graham

© 1962 by Chicago Tribune
N.Y. News Syndicate, Inc.

QUESTION: Now that America has sent up an astronaut and the second Russian astronaut has apparently circled the earth some seventeen times, traveling the distance to and from the moon, can you still insist that there are no living creatures on other planets, and do you still think that the Son of God would have selected this one only in which to make His appearance?

ANSWER: Do not forget that to date there is no evidence either for or against the fact that there is life on other planets. Everyone at this point is still speculating. The travels of the Russian astronaut have proved nothing except that a man can circle the earth at a great distance from the earth and at tremendous speed.

If life should be discovered on other planets, that would not prove that the Bible is wrong. The Bible has not made a statement on that. Many people misunderstand the Bible because they fail to recognize that its primary purpose is to disclose God's way of redemption for sinful man who lives upon this particular planet.

I would be glad myself if I could answer all the questions that people would like to have answered, but the only final and authoritative answer I can give is the one I find in the Word of God.

God has provided redemption for sinners on this planet, and as long as we are earth creatures we have better accept the salvation of God which has been provided through Jesus Christ.

Today's Weather

(Reports furnished by U. S. Weather Bureau Station at Peterson Field as of 5:30 a.m. today)

Cool air was pushing into the Midwest this morning with snow and snow flurries scattered across Minnesota and the western Great Lakes region, while a band of light rain and showers fell over the eastern Ohio Valley and Appalachian region.

In the West, scattered areas of showers and snow at higher elevations made up the weather picture over the Rockies, while mild weather prevailed over the West Coast.

A cold front reaching east and southward out of a storm center over the western Lake Superior region and pushing into the Western Appalachian region kicked off rain showers along and ahead of it.

Morning temperatures east of the Mississippi were generally in the 30s in the north, the 40s and 50s in the south, while warmer 60s were logged in Florida and along the rim of the Gulf.

Clear to partly cloudy skies prevailed over much of the Mississippi Valley and Great Lakes region but a few snow flurries were scattered over northern portions, while some shower activity developed over western portions of Nebraska and Kansas.

Cold 20-degree readings were common over the Dakotas and Minnesota with the 30s registered southward into Kansas and Missouri, while the 40s and 50s prevailed over most of the southern Plains and Mississippi Valley.

To the west, partly cloudy skies cloaked most of the Rocky Mountain states, becoming cloudy in scattered areas of showers and snow flurries.

Fair weather prevailed over California. Skies were partly cloudy over the Pacific Northwest, with an occasional shower breaking out across western Oregon.

The mercury was generally in the 40s and 50s along the West Coast and ranged from the 20s and 30s in the north to the 40s in the south over the Rockies, while in some desert sections the 60s were common.

The Sheriff's office reported that Hines has issued several short checks in the Colorado Springs area during the past few weeks.

Police reported that they have questioned one suspect in the case so far.

De Gaulle Given Massive Vote Of Confidence

He cast his vote, to meet with Premier Michel Debre. He called a cabinet meeting for Wednesday.

His first immediate task was to decide whether to order parliamentary elections as a follow-up to his referendum victory.

In the voting Sunday, 90.7 per cent of the valid ballots approved De Gaulle's request for acceptance of the peace agreement ending the 7½ year Algerian war. De Gaulle regarded the results as a vote of confidence in his overall policies aimed at restoring France as a world power.

The election outcome represented a crushing condemnation by the French in France proper of the Secret Army Organization (OAS) which has plunged Algeria into a reign of terror in a last-ditch effort to keep the territory from Moslem rule.

The election meant that the vast majority of Frenchmen, as opposed to the million diehard Europeans in Algeria, were content to write off the long Algerian war and to give De Gaulle a free hand to complete the decolonizing process in the territory.

In addition to completing Algerian independence, De Gaulle was expected to push ahead with other programs that have been held in abeyance pending an Algerian settlement.

Among these are plans for economic "renovation" of France, the creation of a Western European political union and the raising of an independent French nuclear striking force.

Official figures showed that 20,402,503 votes were cast Sunday, of which 19,300,026 were valid. The "yes" votes totaled 17,505,473; "no" votes 1,794,553; invalid, 1,102,477.

Rockhound Trails

(This is one of a series of 13 weekly columns by Prof. Richard M. Pearl of Colorado College.)

Do you have rocks in your head? This is the happy experience of the many people who belong to the mineral-hunting fraternity.

Some of them prospect for beryl and other minerals of economic value. Most of them these days, however, are looking for specimen material, either for their mineral cases or for their lapidary wheels.

The term rockhound originated in the early days of the oil industry and had nothing to do with rocks as ores or as specimens. A rockhound was the fellow who followed his nose to the place where oil was to be found.

Prospecting for the old standbys, gold and silver, seems to have fallen on sad days, but this happened before, usually in times of prosperity, although now there are political and international factors that were not part of the pattern in former years.

This situation seems certain to change when the present pinch of some minerals and apparent surplus of others is relieved. A population and economy expanding as they are cannot be satisfied with so irregular and uncertain a mineral supply as the present condition tolerates. The prospector must be restored to his occupation somehow.

Meanwhile, the rockhounds who look for interesting and attractive specimens are increasing yearly. Many of them are affiliated with the hundreds of clubs that have been organized. Dozens meet regularly in the Rocky Mountain states. You will find them wherever you live or travel.

The Rocky Mountain Federation of Mineralogical Societies is the overall organization that combines most of the clubs in this region. A few at the outer edges of the region belong to the Northwest Federation, which includes the El Paso and Panhandle sections that are so closely related to the Rockies in mineral interest.

Ivywild Firemen Answer Two Alarms

The Ivywild Fire Department turned out on two alarms Sunday, in one of which the damage was only a $1.65 steak which burned on the kitchen stove, and in the other of which an unconscious collie dog was rescued from a burning house.

The dog was at the residence of Don Farrand, 538 E. St. Elmo St. A neighbor saw smoke coming from the house and turned in an alarm at 5:30 p.m. Chief Fred Wolfe and 15 firemen responded.

The fire had started in a davenport, which was destroyed and one room of the house was badly smoked up and ceiling damaged before the firemen could put out the flames. The family was away from home.

The steak fire was at the residence of Max G. Grid, 1834 W. Cheyenne Rd. The alarm was received at 2:09. Ten firemen responded, headed by Assistant Chief Ray Dorr.

Playing With Matches Cause of Fire Sunday

Children playing with matches was reported by the fire department to have caused a fire at the residence of James Thrash, 1633 W. Vermijo Ave., Sunday. The fire started in a mattress. An alarm was turned in at 3:26 p.m. and Companies 3 and 5 and Assistant Chief Herman J. Richter put out the fire, but the mattress was destroyed and one room of the house badly smoked up.

Forsaken Homes Loom Like Ghosts' in Florida Scandal

marsh task putting blighted strip. The homes back in shape for resale. They will not venture a guess as to when the hundreds of homes in fresh in FHA officials' minds.

On March 1, the South Florida regional director, was indicted on charges of inducing homeowners to spend as much as $2,000 putting to list false liens and mortgages on condition for sale without going to Washington for permission.

Only about 63 of the 1,292 homes which have landed back in the lap of the FHA office are marketable at present.

Before March 1, said Billy Wilcox, FHA regional director, it was "six to ten months" before the area office could get Washington authority to make major repairs on homes.

If the repair bids bounced for some reason — like a foul-up in specifications — the request again had to go thru the Washington red tape.

Added to this delay is the three to six months time it takes to foreclose on a home before the FHA actually gets title and assumes responsibility over the premises.

When the repair program gets rolling, it may cost the FHA as much as $10,000 a week. More personnel are being added to the agency's property management division to administer this giant reconstruction job.

The VA, too, has a home reconstruction problem, although it is not nearly as serious as that confronting its sister agency.

The FHA is not naming names at this early date, but officials say fraudulent applications could involve one or more persons or firms, including the applicant, employer, builder, mortgagee and real estate firm.

These cases, Wilcox said, are only a "small part" of the reason the FHA is saddled with a big inventory of repossessions.

The major reason, he contended, is the "recession" which swept the country last year and which banded Florida last, and

Mrs. Ellen J. Vaeth Died at Hospital

Mrs. Ellen J. Vaeth, 219 N. Hancock Ave., died Sunday at a local hospital, after a short illness. She was the widow of Alex Vaeth, who died in Colorado Springs in 1945, and had been a resident of the city since 1932. She was a member of St. Mary's Church and of the Legion of Mary Auxiliary.

Mrs. Vaeth was born in St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 27, 1897. She and Mr. Vaeth were married in St. Joseph in 1918. She is survived by three sons, David and Joseph Vaeth, of Colorado Springs, and Frank Vaeth, Fort MacArthur, Calif.; four daughters, Mrs. Elizabeth Louise Self, Mattoon, Ill.; Mrs. Rosemary Holmes, Colorado Springs; and Mrs. Josephine Ann McVay, Denver, Colo.; and a brother, Joseph Michael Vaeth, Wadsworth, Kan., and eight grandchildren.

Rosary services will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Nlan Drawing Room. A requiem high mass will be celebrated at St. Mary's Church at 9 a.m. Wednesday. Burial will be in Evergreen Cemetery.

Castro Wants $62 Million for Ransom Of Invaders

to swap the prisoners for 500 tractors. A committee of U.S. citizens organized at that time to try to arrange the trade. It was estimated that it would take up to $17 million to buy enough tractors or bulldozers to free the prisoners.

The prisoners now may be released one by one on payment of ransoms or indemnities ranging from $25,000 for a man in the ranks to $500,000 for a leader of the invasion.

In New York, the chairman of the International Rescue Committee, Leo Cherne said his organization would not negotiate with the Cuban government to ransom the prisoners.

Cherne compared the ransom offer to that made by the Germans during World War II—10,000 trucks for the lives of 100,000 Hungarian Jews.

The families committee, which took over efforts to free the captives after the International Rescue Group gave up the project, told Castro "the concrete offer we are ready to make you does not refer to tractors."

Sentiment among Miami's 100,000 or more Cuban exiles did not appear unified. Antonio de Varona, a member of the Cuban Revolutionary Council, called the sentences political blackmail. "It is a vendetta that could have been hatched only in the mind of a paranoic," he said.

One exile who asked not to be named said, "Instead of spending $62 million to ransom them, let's use the money to buy arms. In any event, Castro won't last 30 years (the length of the sentences).

Expected to make the trip to Havana are Alvaro Sanchez, chairman of the families committee, Llaça, and two other committee members—Virginia Betancourt de Rodriguez and Ernesto Freyre.

Sen. Homer E. Capehart, R-Ind., said at Indianapolis that the sentencing is "strictly 100 per cent communistic blackmail."

He said that he wasn't surprised at the new hint that money for the prisoners' release should come from the United States.

"If we have a moral obligation to put up $62 million," he said, "then we should do what we should have done many months ago—take over Cuba militarily and establish free government down there."

Other counties where speculative home building has been halted include Palm Beach, Hillsborough, Orange, Seminole and Pinellas.

The ban has drawn protests, the latest by Republican Rep. William V. Cramer of St. Petersburg (Pinellas County) today.

Cramer asked the FHA to lift the ban on "sound buildings with small inventories." Declaring the total restriction on speculative home building "doesn't make any sense," Cramer suggested it be applied only to individual subdivisions or builders after a survey of inventories.

He said more than 60 per cent of the defaults are in eight or ten subdivisions in each of the seven counties where the FHA is in trouble, or in about 15 per cent of the building areas.

Cramer said the sweeping cutoff would "further depress the housing market, soften buyer demand, undermine general confidence in real estate and bring a brother, Joseph Michael Vaeth, Wadsworth, Kan., and eight grandchildren.

The FHA-VA order was "temporary," officials emphasized, pending a field study of the exact number of repossessed homes in the seven counties.

Abandoned and foreclosed homes, coupled with a "soft market," triggered the halt on speculative home loan insurance commitments, FHA and VA officials said.

Each student read an introduction to their selection, their selection, and a poem handed them at random. Trophies and ribbons were awarded to the winners.

Muzzling Free Speech Turned Down by U.S.

GENEVA (AP)—The United States today turned down a Soviet proposal to make war propaganda a crime in every country and said that America can never agree to muzzle the right of free speech.

U.S. Ambassador Arthur H. Dean told the 17-nation disarmament conference that war propaganda can best be eliminated by initiating free exchange of views between citizens of different national blocs. He contended the definition of war propaganda is too diffuse to tackle by bringing in prohibitive law.

"The United States cannot," Dean went on, "through legislation or edict, impose controls on the freedom of speech and freedom of the press of its citizens, nor would it regard such legislation or edicts desirable even if the United States had powers in this regard."

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin described war propaganda as a heinous crime. He charged that more and more voices calling for preventive war were being raised in Western countries and particularly in West Germany.

He urged all the conference nations to draft laws making war propaganda a punishable offense for every citizen.

Dean said the United States is opposed to war propaganda campaigns and has not conducted them. But he added, "You cannot banish the ills of the world by simple declaration."

The United States government, Dean said, can and does exercise self-restraint in its official statements.

He suggested the American practice of equal time—giving opposing political parties equal opportunity to air their views in public—might well be adopted in the international field.

PERSONAL RESPONSIBILITY

It is estimated that on an average day in the United States 4 million people are actually disabled by illness, and countless others are afflicted with minor ailments. Not only is the economic loss incalculable, but the effect on the spirit of the nation is a factor to be reckoned.

What can we do to better this situation? Certainly, at a very minimum, you can care for your own health and the health of your family. In the end, most problems are resolved in the individual's sense of personal responsibility. Observe common health rules. Consult your physician in case of illness . . . if he writes a prescription . . . we invite you to bring it to Aley's . . . where it will be compounded accurately . . . and SAVE YOU MONEY, TOO.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It must be consistent with the truths expressed in such great moral guides as the Golden Rule, the Ten Commandments and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

Moral Losses Add Up

Most of us are prone to examine the increase in the size of government in terms of dollars. This is logical enough. The dollars are ours. And every dollar spent by Uncle Sam is a dollar we have earned or will have to earn which we will not be allowed to spend for ourselves.

But if we confine ourselves to concern about the dollar flow, we miss the major impact of the story of our times. It is not the forcible expropriation of our funds that is the bane of our existence. Certainly it is bad enough, but men have been robbed and pillaged before and have gone on to overcome their losses.

What is at the root of our malaise is the fact that the entire process of getting government into an ever bigger sphere of influence in our lives is enervating. It is the loss of human values, more than the mere dollar shorages, which is in process of destroying us. Predation by a thief can make us angry. But predation by a legalized agency of plunder can make us hopeless.

If we permit this practice to continue indefinitely, human life as we have known it will cease to be. And the trend we have noted toward a better and a more civilized way of life will be covered over by the reduction of men to statistical units of reciprocity in a giant state. We will have been communized.

The process is recognizable in Russia, where the whole package was introduced one dreary November day by Nicolai Lenin. Lenin's view was that man is a social creature and an integral unit of the state. Only the state had rights. Only the state could be rewarded. If they sought to serve themselves, to strive for superior attainments, to look to the future for its own sake or the sake of their loved ones, then they were displaying radical capitalist tendencies and must be stopped or eliminated.

In what way, other than degree, is the current philosophy of our own state-lovers different? We hear it argued on every hand. Man is a social creature. We are told. Individualism is a social. The individualist, by nature, will not cooperate. He is a danger to the state and must be ruled and reduced to the same level as his fellows. It is impossible to imagine a more grievous blind alley for humankind. And every dollar spent by Uncle Sam is a dollar we have earned or will have to earn which we will not be allowed to spend for ourselves.

Boxing Can Be Lethal

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Prizefighting has changed so much in the years since teevy corrupted this noble sport with temptations toward insincerity that we who have its finest traditions at heart will only avert our eyes but not protest if public indignation now gives it the coup de grace with a hominoid kick behind an ear as it lies unconscious in the arena.

The injury of a Cuban field-hand named Benny Paret at the hands of Emile Griffith in New York has raised public indignation to uncharted depths, as the editors say. I am conscious of a further consideration that makes it imperative to eradicate this menace. Both of these boys are Negroes and one need not dwell on the fact that most of the successful fighters of the last 20-odd years have been dark men. They have been integrating the white man bow-legged and there is no other way but legislation to cure a dangerous situation then obviously there ought to be a law. This sort of thing could lead to disunity that way lies chaos.

Death is uncommon in pugilism, but I have seen two men beaten to the point of death, and the victor in one of those fights, Bud Taylor, of Terre Haute, Ind., had died recently in California, also killed a second man. The first one to fall before Taylor was a scrawny, immature fellow married youth from the Bronx who fought under the name of Frankie Jerome. That was not his real name, but he had been an altar boy at St. Jerome's and he thought he was honoring his church. He had had few fights but enough to qualify for a main event in the old Garden in the twenties when the bantamweights and flyweights were a cloud of gnats. Flyweights usually weigh 110 pounds or less and bantamweights 116 or less. The next class is the featherweight with a limit of 124 pounds. Taylor and Jerome were bantams. Taylor hit Frankie a bombardment on the back of the head as he stood in a bend with his arms and gloves screening his face and body. Jerome subsided softly and gave no outward appearance of serious damage but died before morning, and Taylor went to his funeral.

Once, we looked forward to a ripe old age of quiet maturity after a lifetime of vigor and adventure. Now, we shun the difficult, and old age comes early as we seek to retire at an ever earlier date.

All of these are indications of vast significance. They tell of a grand and mighty people becoming habitual dependents on their government.

Yet the power of truth and individuality is as great as it ever was. Moral integrity is of greater social. The individualist, by nature, will not cooperate. He is a danger to the state and must be ruled and reduced to the same level as his fellows. It is impossible to imagine a more grievous blind alley for humankind. And every dollar spent by Uncle Sam is a dollar we have earned or will have to earn which we will not be allowed to spend for ourselves.

HINTS FROM Heloise

Here goes that same old stuff—trying to save time and energy again.

I do believe that even if the good Lord had given us mothers 36 hours in each day, and four hands, it would still not be enough to get all of our work done.

There isn't a mother in the world who hasn't wished that—just once—she could have all her laundry, ironing, grocery buying done; the house cleaned, woodwork washed, tool shed cleaned out, rugs, draperies, upholstery and bedspreads washed.

We will never accomplish this. When we recognize this fact, we will get over some of those nervous and tired spells.

Until then there is only one thing to do. Do what you can and TRY not to worry about the rest.

Remember grandmother had to make her own soap and bread. Scrub on a wash board! So if hubby says, "Why can't you?" Look at him real sweetly and say, "Honey, why aren't you still driving a horse and buggy to narcotics and will use visual aids work?" Or maybe walking? Where is the pile of wood that you choppe tonight and the milk from the cows? So help me—men have reaped the rewards of modern inventions, but so have we.

What brought this topic up was a trip South. I am a firm believer that you learn from anyone. The people I try to learn from are the "mothers of inventions."

As I watched a washwoman hang up the clothes on her many lines, I felt sorry for her because she did not have a dryer. But she preferred the sun.

She told me that the sun bleaches things. She put some real gray things on the green grass. I asked her why. "The grass bleaches, honeychild, and my clothes are white."

I recalled that we put salt and lemon on things and laid them on the grass to bleach them.

Then—she took her garden hose, turned on the strongest stream of water, and hoisted down the sheets, blue jeans, pillow cases, dish towels and all the flat work. She said this put weight in the fibers and saved ironing.

But she never hangs a sheet by its tail. She hangs them across the line from the middle. The hems are on the bottom. The water drips, the wind blows and nature irons them!

Later when the clothes were dry, she started taking a few of them down off the line, leaving some—although they were dry too.

She picked up the garden hose and casually started spraying the clothes with the "fine spray." This was her easy way of sprinkling. She did them all at once.

As she took them off the line she folded them and placed them in a basket. She said this prevented hard wrinkles! How smart! She never rolls them. That makes more wrinkles.

Our blessings to this woman for sharing her knowledge with us housewives.

And may I tell you all—her name is Mandy, she's 72 years old, soft spoken, kind, and her eyes shine with love.

Won't some of you others share (like Mandy did) your hints, shortcuts and energy savers with us? We'd love that.

Write to me today, in care of this paper.

Love,

Dear Abby--

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

Sacrificial Praise!

DEAR ABBY: I've never written to you with a problem, but I wouldn't think of missing your advice and column a single day. In fact, I give her away in marriage? She enjoys reading "Dear Abby" so much that I've given it up for her. Yours sincerely, —MRS. F. L. O'NEILL

DEAR ABBY: Our 15-year-old daughter recently married a 20-year-old boy whom we love as our own son. He has been sent overseas and our daughter has moved back into our home.

She drives our car, keeps late hours and runs with a beatnik crowd. If we didn't watch her, she'd eat popcorn and candy bars for supper and sit up all night watching TV. She claims that she is a "married woman" and can do as she pleases. Is that right?

—UPSET PARENTS

DEAR PARENTS: While she is in your home, married or single, she is your responsibility. Since self-addressed envelope, your daughter obviously is not grown up enough to know what is good for her, it's up to you to tell her and to see that she does it.

DEAR ABBY: I am about to lose my mind because of a problem that would sound stupid to everyone I know, so I am hoping you can help me. "How" can you wash a three-year-old girl's hair when she fights, claws and screams blue murder? I have to chase her around the house to catch her and then it is a real battle all the way. I have tried putting ear plugs in her ears and a towel over her eyes, and even washing her hair in the shower but nothing works. I have bribed, begged and spanked. Please, please help me. —END OF MY ROPE

DEAR END: She probably has had her eyes burned by soap and has never forgotten it. Get a shampoo board and let her lean back so that no water or soap can run down her face. Or buy one of those rubber "brims" (infants' department) to keep her face dry. Good luck.

Install new bathroom cabinets under the sink if space is at a premium. Add a hinged cover to the drawer at the bottom of the cabinet. This makes a handy step-up for children.

Tense Nerves Block Bowels

New tonic-tablet laxative acts on colonic muscles... de-constipates overnight.

The muscular wall of your colon contains nerves known to medicine as Auerbach's Plexus. In regular people, these nerves tell the colon muscles to propel and expel waste from the body. But tense nerves or emotional upset can block your normal bowel habits. Your colon muscle impulses are no longer strong enough to eliminate waste—which dries and shrinks, further aggravating the condition.

Relief, doctors say, lies in the non-irritating, de-constipating principle of a new tonic-tablet called COLONALAX. Of all leading laxatives, only COLONALAX gives you its special 3-way overnight relief for tension-caused constipation.

(1) COLONALAX stimulates your colonic nerve network, to further activate and regularize its muscular "movement." (2) COLONALAX's unique re-bulking action helps re-tone tense colonic muscles. (3) COLONALAX moisturizes for easy passage without pain or strain.

COLONALAX relieves even chronic constipation overnight; is so gentle it was hospital-proved safe even for expectant mothers. Get COLONALAX today. INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢.

SANTONE SALLIES by Sally Baxter

Name Calling

When we organized our four-some for bridge, we never intended to talk across the table. But then Mary said, "We must give ourselves a name."

So I looked at Mary's colorful sweater, at Polly's pretty knit, at Daisy's fresh wool dress, and glanced down at my new-looking last year's suit. "How about the 'Fashionable Four'?"

"What four?" Mary said. She likes to be contrary sometimes.

"Why, for Santone!" I said. You could just tell that each of us had sallied forth in clothes that were Santone cleaned by Sno-White Cleaners. No other dry cleaners can compare with their method of keeping colors bright, holding knits to their

Big Ed Helps On Plan for Reapportionment

DENVER (AP) — State officials worked out today a title for one plan to reapportion the Colorado Legislature.

The plan is sponsored by a group headed by former Gov. Ed C. Johnson. It draws its support from the Colorado Chamber of Commerce and several rural organizations.

The title is the one which will appear on the November ballot provided the proposed amendment is supported by petitions with signatures of 41,960 voters.

Approval of the title opens the way for circulation of the petitions.

The title: "An act to amend Article V of the State Constitution providing for a Senate of 39 members and a House of 65 members, provides for 65 representative districts to be substantially equal in population, for senatorial districts, apportioned to Adams, Arapahoe, Boulder and Jefferson Counties, Elbert County being detached from Arapahoe County and attached to a district with adjoining counties; provides for senatorial districts of substantially equal population within counties with more than one senator; for revision of districts by the General Assembly in 1963 and after each decennial census thereafter, under penalty of loss of compensation and eligibility of members to succeed themselves in office."

The title was worked out by Atty. Gen. Duke W. Dunbar, Supreme Court Reporter Floyd Miles and Ken Russell, representing Secretary of State George J. Baker.

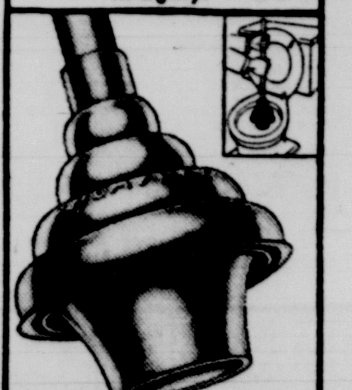

The group made up of the League of Women Voters, Colorado Labor Council and Colorado Education Association is working on a different amendment to reapportion the legislature. It plans to meet Monday to try to write a proposal in final form.

Beating Victim's Condition Remains Unchanged Today

The condition of Beulah White, 61, of 322 E. Moreno Ave., remains unchanged this morning at St. Francis Hospital where she was admitted Friday in an unconscious condition suffering from the effects of an apparent severe beating.

Meanwhile, police continued questioning Connie James Seabron, 31, who was living with Mrs. White, and has admitted having a fight with her Tuesday during which he struck her several times with his open hand and pushed her into a clothes wringer.

Seabron told Police Detectives Lewis Heinz and Robert Murphy that an argument arose between himself and Mrs. White when she accused him of going back to a former girl friend.

Seabron said he told Mrs. White that it was a lie, and that when she slapped him several times, he pushed her into the wringer. She then threw an iron stove lid at him and he struck her several times with his open hand, Seabron said. Seabron stated that sometime during Wednesday night he found Mrs. White lying on the floor near a bedroom door that opens to the kitchen. He said he helped her back to bed at that time and that he noticed blood on her mouth. The next morning he wiped the blood from her mouth.

Medical authorities told police that Mrs. White was suffering from body and head injuries, convulsions, and blood in her spinal fluid. She is unconscious, in a coma, and listed in critical condition.

Seabron told police that while he has been staying at the White home he had noticed that Mrs. White was very unsteady on her feet, especially after she had been drinking. He said that she fell quite frequently, often from her bed to the floor.

Police were notified of the incident Saturday morning and several hours later, at 11 a. m., Seabron was arrested. He is being held in the city jail on suspicion of assault and battery.

Police Chief Cecil J. McKissick announced Saturday afternoon that charges will be filed against Seabron today.

Mrs. White lived in a house at the rear of the Moreno Avenue address, which is owned by John Gibson.

Authorities said that they determined that bedding in Mrs. White's home had been moved and some removed from the house by the Gibsons. The bed was broken and an empty wine bottle in the house was taken to the police department to check for fingerprints.

Authorities have so far failed in their attempts to find any instrument that might have been used to inflict injuries on Mrs. White.

Police said that Seabron has a police record of arrests for drunkenness and carrying concealed weapons, and a juvenile record of minor offenses extending back to 1954.

Mrs. White is the widow of John White, who died several years ago, police said.

Texas Playboys To Invade Ent Timberline Club

Members of Ent's non-committed officers club, their wives and guests are in for a western treat Sunday when America's No. 1 Western string band, Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys, invade the Ent Timberline Club from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m.

This celebrated radio, television and motion picture star is still the most copied western band leader in the nation today. His unique style has been the magic which lures capacity turnouts to every one of his personal appearances.

Although his record sales have passed the 20-million mark on MGM, Decca and Columbia labels, the most requested songs at the dances and shows still are "New San Antonio Rose" and "Steel Guitar Rag." San Antonio Rose, the biggest Wills' hit, has sold more than four million copies.

Bob has been the "hero" in 28 motion pictures for Columbia, and his waxing of records has passed the 1,500 mark—a record no other western band leader has achieved.

Today, after 20 years as the nation's foremost western band leader, Bob's recordings still make the "best-seller" charts and receive their full share of requests from loyal fans.

Bob Wills and his Texas Playboys have been featured for more than 10 years on the radio and television networks.

Woman Aided Today By Resuscitator Crew

The fire department was called for resuscitator service at 7:08 a. m. today when Mrs. Margarita Dahler, 33, of 1923 Snider St., had difficulty in breathing. Company 6 and Assistant Chief Herman J. Richter responded. An inhalator was used for five minutes, after which Mrs. Dahler was taken to Penrose Hospital.

At 8:37 a. m. Sunday Assistant Chief Richter and the Company 1 resuscitator crew worked for 10 minutes with an inhalator on a 10-month-old girl, Georgiana Ganna, at 120 W. Rio Grande St. The child had suffered convulsions, but was restored to normal breathing by the firemen.

Gradual Arms Reduction Seen as Hope for Peace

A gradual, limited reduction of some 90 students from 60 colleges arms, together with a tight inspection system, provides the best hope for international peace and security, according to the final report of the four-day Air Force Academy Assembly, which ended Saturday.

The report, which represents the consensus of student round-table discussions on arms control, rejects the idea of general and complete disarmament as an immediate objective.

It also rejects a unilateral disarmament program as harmful to the national security.

The assembly was attended by

Major League Baseball Season Scheduled to Start Today

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

There wasn't a pessimistic manager in the pennant picture as the major league baseball season opened today on two fronts today.

Traditionally, the American League stages its inaugural game in Washington, D.C., where the Senators launch the season in spangly new 43,500-capacity District of Columbia Stadium. The Detroit Tigers provide the opposition.

After President Kennedy tossed the first ball, Benjie Daniels, a right-hander, will take the mound for the Senators. He will pitch in an expansion program that eventually may be enlarged to include two 12-team leagues or three 16-team leagues.

In addition to presenting two new teams in Houston and New York, the majors will unveil three new stadiums—in Los Angeles, Washington and Houston—home runs but he needed 162 games to win the National League pennant last year.

The pennant races, of course, will be the greatest interest, but a great deal of attention will be paid to individual players with the hope of witnessing another stirring home run duel similar to the one between St. Louis and Cincinnati last year.

The experts have picked the Cardinals, tabbed as a dark horse by many observers, probably as the best team to beat.

The two new National League teams, the Houston Astros and the Cincinnati Reds, will be expected to supply much of the excitement in the new stadiums.

The Dodgers have the over-all stadium, the Mets strengthened their pitching staff with the acquisition of Dick Donovan and Pedro Ramos.

The Tigers have the same club away from the other clubs as last year while the Yankees have made a change at shortstop.

Both clubs are expected because of Tony Kubek's recall to the Yankees. However, we are going into the season with a stronger pitcher than we did last year.

Another pitcher who should win again is Niekirk, who pitched the Red Sox to a pennant in his first year. He thinks his team is capable of repeating despite a crippling injury to third baseman Gene Freese.

"I see no reason why we shouldn't win again," Houk said. "I'm not taking anything away from the other clubs. Our players are confident and capable."

Finsterwald, who pitched the Red Sox to a pennant in his first year, thinks his team is capable of repeating despite a crippling injury to third baseman Gene Freese.

Rookie, Old Veteran Turn in Good Games

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

A rookie who isn't even on the roster and a well-established catcher closed out the major league exhibition season with two of the spring's most impressive hitting performances.

Rookie Bob Sadowski blasted three home runs and a single and drove in five runs for the Chicago White Sox Sunday while Earl Battey of the Minnesota Twins drove in four runs on a homer, two doubles and two singles.

Home runs by Minnie Minoso and Ken Boyer produced all the St. Louis runs in the tie with Philadelphia. The game was called at the end of the 11th as the teams could catch players.

The tie, which doesn't go on the exhibition records, left the hopeful Cards with an 18-8 record for the spring, tops in the National League and best in the Grapefruit League, composed of those teams which trained in Florida.

Scrimmage Pleases AFA Coach

So far, the Air Force Academy has had a running battle with the elements in the first week of spring football practice, but the wet weather has failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the Falcons.

Last Saturday the AFA ended its first week of drills with a game-type scrimmage and despite the precipitation and chilling winds the young Falcons gave a few on-lookers a preview of what is coming up in the next couple of weeks and next fall when they will open up their brand new stadium.

Palmer Favored in Playoff

Finsterwald, Player Provide Opposition

By MERCER BAILEY
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Arnold Palmer, who again has proven he is the game's greatest pressure player, was favored over Gary Player and Dow Finsterwald in today's 18-hole playoff for the 1962 Masters golf championship.

No less an authority than Finsterwald, who won the three previous Masters, said that he thought the final round would be a battle between the two players.

Finsterwald, who won the 1961 Masters, said that he thought the final round would be a battle between the two players.

Palmer, who won the 1959, 1960 and 1961 Masters, said that he thought the final round would be a battle between the two players.

Local Schools Start Busy Week

By TOM CUSHMAN
Gazette Telegraph Sports Writer

Two games matching local high school rivals Tuesday lift the lid on a busy week of activity in Colorado Springs as Wasson tangles with Cheyenne Mountain at the Indians field and Palmer travels for a contest with St. Mary's.

The undefeated South Central League leading Wasson team will be shooting for its seventh straight victory against Cheyenne in a 3-0 battle and, aside from a major surprise, the T-Birds figure to get it. Coach G. Funk, with three pitchers tested out in route, going performances, will probably give at least a couple of chances to loosen up Tuesday as it is Wasson's lone action until Saturday's crucial set with Pueblo South.

West, Baylor Lead Lakers To Series Tie With Celts

BOSTON (AP)—Jerry West and Elgin Baylor are sending Los Angeles to a series tie with the Boston Celtics in the National Basketball Association playoff finals.

West scored 40 points and Baylor 36 in a 129-122 victory Sunday which knotted the best-of-seven series at one game apiece. The next games are on the Lakers' court Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

West scored 40 points and Baylor 36 in a 129-122 victory Sunday which knotted the best-of-seven series at one game apiece. The next games are on the Lakers' court Tuesday and Wednesday nights.

Palmer and St. Mary's could turn up a close ball game, although the steadily improving Terrors will rule as pre-contest favorites. Coach Jerry Hughes saw the fuse lit on his hitting attack last Saturday as Palmer split a pair with Trinidad. The Terrors stroked 21 safety hits day and the pitching continued to pick-up as well.

Palmer is currently 2-5 for the season, owning wins over Pueblo County and Trinidad. St. Mary's has a 2-1 record, having defeating Harrison and Holy Family while losing to Mt. Carmel.

The Terrors have the only other midweek game, traveling to East Denver Thursday, but the action picks up on the weekend. Palmer hosts Pueblo East for a Saturday morning doubleheader at Erps Field while Wasson moves to Runyon Field in Pueblo to take on South's defending SCL champions. The twin bill, which will start at 9 a.m., should have considerable bearing on this year's race. South was upset by Sir Gaylord in the second half of choice.

Texas Southern Had Field Day in Relays

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Nothing can be taken away from Texas Southern's great showing in the Texas Relays — winning five relays and setting records in all — but Abilene Christian, Kansas and Nebraska had quite a day, too.

Abilene Christian, Kansas and Nebraska were competing in the tougher university division. The former won three relays and placed in two more. Kansas entered two and won them both, setting records. Nebraska entered three and won two, also setting records.

Texas Southern, however, undoubtedly would have dominated the university class if it had been competing there instead of the college division. The Tigers had better times in two relays than the university class — 46.5 in the 440-yard event and 3:09.0 in the mile. Abilene Christian won the 440 with 40.9 and the mile in 3:10.0.

Texas A&M took the sprint medley with a 3:21.4, which was a tenth of a second faster than Texas Southern in the college division. Abilene Christian had 1:23.6 in the 800-yard relay compared to 1:23.7 for Texas Southern. Kansas won the two-mile in 7:27.7 and Texas Southern did 7:30.6.

But who is to say Texas Southern wouldn't have equalled all those times had it run in the university class? The Tigers got little competition in the college division, winning from 15 to 60 yards. Had they been pushed they might have set even better records than the university boys.

Texas Southern performed its amazing feat — never in any relay meet had a school won five events and set records in all until the Tigers did it here Saturday.

In Spring Bout...

Pender, Fullmer May Resolve Title Dispute

By BOB SALMON
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP)—It appears that Paul Pender and Gene Fullmer will finally resolve their middleweight title dispute in late spring or early summer.

Only the site seems to be in dispute now that Pender, a former fireman, has doused the title flame in the heart of British Terry Downes.

Pender, 31, regained his portion of the crown with a unanimous 15-round decision over the tough Cockney at Boston Garden Saturday night, drawing invitations from Fullmer's manager and promoter Norm Rothschild to battle out his title claims.

"Gene would like a fight in May or June and is perfectly willing to meet Pender then if the site and terms can be worked out," said Marvin Jensen from

"If Pender can't make it that soon, we'd also be willing to meet Denny Moyer or perhaps Downes," Jensen said.

Promoter Rothschild said he is ready to offer both claimants a large chunk of money for the fight, with television interested in providing a large percentage of it.

"It's going to take at least $125,000 each for Pender and Fullmer to close this," he said, "I'm ready with that kind of bidding."

Rothschild, who operates out of Syracuse, N.Y., said he already has talked with John Cronin, Pender's attorney, and Los Angeles promoter George Parnassus.

"It's going to take at least $125,000 each for Pender and Fullmer to close this," he said, "I'm ready with that kind of bidding."

Jensen said Pender and Fullmer should share equally—probably 30 per cent apiece—in their fight since each claims the title.

Pender is recognized as champion in Europe, Massachusetts and New York. The National Boxing Association proclaims Fullmer as middleweight king. Fullmer won a 10-round decision over Pender at Brooklyn N.Y. in 1955 in August.

Black Hawks Confident Of Repeating

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks feel they are rolling now after a slow start and are confident they will successfully defend their Stanley Cup championship against the Toronto Maple Leafs.

The necessary momentum, they feel, was supplied Sunday night when they dumped the Montreal Canadiens, 2-0, behind the brilliant goal tending of Glenn Hall.

It marked the fourth straight Hawk victory over the Canadiens who had won the first two games in his best-of-seven semifinal series. Toronto, in reaching the final, defeated New York 4-2 Saturday in semifinal play.

The two teams open the final best-of-seven series in Toronto Tuesday night.

Ab McDonald and Ken Wharham scored Chicago's goals in the clincher Sunday night but Hall was the real hero. Both Coach Rudy Pilous of Chicago and Toe Blake of Montreal agreed Hall's save on Dickie Moore's shot in the second period was the turning point.

The Hawks have their work cut out for them against Toronto. During the regular season they won only one game at Toronto against four losses and two ties.

Springfield Garners Lead in AHL Playoffs

By United Press International
The Springfield Indians, playing cat and mouse with the Cleveland Barons, have taken a 2-1 lead in their American Hockey League semifinal playoff series.

Trailing three different times in the contest, the Indians rallied to tie the score at 3-3 in the final minute of regulation play Sunday night and then won the game, 4-3, on a goal by Dennis Olson at 7:44 of the first overtime period.

The victory at Cleveland also avenged the Indians' opening game loss to Cleveland in the best-of-seven set when the Barons won in overtime by an identical 4-3 score. Springfield scored its first victory with a 3-1 decision on its home ice Saturday.

Hershey moved into a best-of-five semifinal series against Buffalo by edging the Providence Reds, 3-2, Saturday night on an overtime goal by Cleland Morton after the Reds had scored twice in the third period to force an extra session.

Olson, who won the game for Springfield Sunday night, also scored the Indians' first goal while Bob Kabeal and Kent Douglas were the other Springfield marksmen. It was Douglas' clutch goal on passes from Kabeal and Bill Sweeney that sent the game into overtime. Cal Stearns, Aldo Gudolin and Fred Glover scored for Cleveland.

Mike McCormick May Hit Minors

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Mike McCormick, a disappointment in spring training, won't pitch for the San Francisco Giants until his left arm loosens and he can throw hard again.

That was the somber word from Manager Alvin Dark on the National League team's return from spring training Sunday night.

McCormick won't even work the bull pen, Dark said. He'll be used in batting practice only until he gets his hard, fast delivery back, the manager declared, and may be sent to the club's minor league training camp at Casa Grande, Ariz.

Loss of McCormick is a blow to Giant pennant hopes. He was expected to be one of the regular Giant starters. The 23-year-old slipped from a 15-12 record in 1960 to 13-16 last year.

Old 'Newspaper Boy' Makes His Final Round

HAGERSTOWN, Md. (AP)—Affable Ike Wilson, 77, the newsboy old enough to be the great-grandfather of the average youngster delivering newspapers, has made the final round of his 289 Hagerstown Daily Mail customers in nearby Funkstown.

Two generations of Funkstown residents can't recall the Mail coming to their community other than in the canvas bag slung on Ike's shoulder, or in the cart that he pulled in recent years.

Ike became a newsboy at the age of 35 after an illness forced him to give up a job as night superintendent at an industrial plant.

Rusk Says Differences Reported Among Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today there is "considerable evidence of deep differences" between the Soviet Union and Red China with both competing for leadership of the Communist bloc.

"I would not wish to make a categorical generalization but there are signs of friction" in that area, he said.

He made his evaluation during an appearance on behalf of President Kennedy's $4.9 billion foreign aid request.

Rusk termed the aid program a vital part of the cold war conflict in which "the stakes are the security of the free world today and the shape of the world tomorrow."

GOODWILL BUNDLE—Much of the used clothing collected by pupils in District 11 schools during Bundle Days April 6-20 will go to Colorado Springs Goodwill Industries. Elmer Maez and Mrs. Mary Ann Maez are two of the Goodwill workers who will sort the clothing which will be cleaned, repaired, and offered for sale. Goodwill Industries finances its program of training and rehabilitation from its sales of clothing and discarded household articles.

Springs School Students Will Collect Clothing

School District 11's annual Bundle Days drive when school children collect discarded but wearable clothing April 16-20.

Residents are requested to go thru closets, attics, and other storage areas in search of clothing they can no longer use. Also the need for shoes, overcoats, and all types of women's and children's apparel is especially great, there is also need for all other kinds of clothing.

Climate Effects On Indians to Be Studied in U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government scientists are comparing two tribes of American Indians to determine the effect of climate and heredity on arthritis and rheumatism.

The U.S. Public Health Service, in announcing this today, noted that for hundreds of years physicians had recommended changes in climate in hopes of helping sufferers of the diseases.

"Yet," the service said, "there is no conclusive evidence that transplanting patients from one location to another has any lasting value—and medical texts on the subject sometimes read more like folklore than presentations of scientific data."

Now, the service said, the study among the Indians may allow the government researchers—representing the National Institute of Arthritis and Metabolic Diseases—"to pin down finally the relationship between climate and arthritis and rheumatism."

More than 11 million Americans are afflicted with the painful diseases. The affliction is called arthritis if the joints are involved, and rheumatism if muscle tendons, ligaments or similar structures are concerned.

The service already has completed a study of more than 1,000 Blackfoot Indians living in Montana, where the year-round weather is relatively cold.

Next year, service researchers plan to undertake the second phase of the project—a comparative study of a Southwestern tribe in hot, dry, Arizona desert, 1,500 miles from the Blackfoot country. The second tribe was not identified.

Goodwill Industries provides useful employment for the physically, mentally, and emotionally handicapped who are unable to find normal employment without additional training and rehabilitation.

These workers repair and renovate clothing and other articles donated to Goodwill Industries. The articles are then offered for sale at modest prices in the Goodwill retail store at 15 West Cuernavaca. Retail sales are the agency's only source of income.

Goodwill Industries is the only organization whose sole purpose is to train and rehabilitate handicapped workers. It accepts the handicapped without regard for race, creed, or national origin. Presently it is providing employment and training for 30 men and women, most of them will eventually be able to accept normal employment.

The Save the Children Federation operates mainly in the southeastern mountain regions and on Indian reservations in the U. S. In most cases it distributes clothing without charge, but in some areas operates clothing centers that make a small charge for clothing for those people who prefer to pay their own way as far as possible.
